BIRTHS.

31,351 Births were registered during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 311 per ten thousand, or 3·11 per cent.

The Annual Birth-rate in the Large Town Districts was 332 per ten thousand; in the Small Town Districts, 322; in the Principal Town Districts, 320; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 283; and in the Insular-Rural Districts 222.

For every ten thousand persons in Perth the annual Birth-rate was 259 ; in Edinburgh, 280 ; in Dundee, 288 ; in Leith, 304 ; in Paisley, 325 ; in Aberdeen, 331 ; in Glasgow, 334 ; and in Greenock, 347.

Of the 31,351 Births, 2392 were illegitimate, constituting 7·6 per cent. of the whole. In the Insular-Rural Districts, 4·7 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate ; in the Large Town Districts, 6·2 ; in the Small Town Districts, 7·0 ; in the Principal Town Districts, 7·3 ; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 10·1 per cent.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. From Table I. it will be seen that the highest proportion of illegitimate Births occurred in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions ; the rate in the former Division being 14·2 per cent., and in the latter 13·3 per cent. Table II. shows that in ten of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was 10 per cent. or above ; and further, that the lowest rate in any County occurred in Bute, viz., 2·1 per cent., and the highest in Elgin, viz., 20·3 per cent.

Of the 31,351 Births, 16,070 were males, and 15,281 females, being in the proportion of 105·2 males to every 100 females. 10,923 Births were registered during January ; 9520 during February ; and 10,908 during March. The daily rate was thus 352 in January ; 340 during February ; and 352 in March.

DEATHS.

During the quarter there were registered in Scotland the Deaths of 21,005 persons, being at the annual rate of 208 for every ten thousand of estimated population. As will be seen on reference to Table III., this rate is 0·07 below the average for the same quarter during the last ten years.

The number of Deaths registered in England and Wales during the quarter was 144,626, being at the rate of 197 for every ten thousand of the estimated population.

The Death-rate in the Principal Town Districts was 236 for every ten thousand persons ; in the Large Town Districts 214 ; in the Small Town Districts, 195 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 175 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts 164.

For every ten thousand persons in Dundee, the Death-rate was 285 ; in Glasgow, 255 ; in Perth, 226 ; in Paisley, 225 ; in Leith, 215 ; in Edinburgh, 206 ; in Aberdeen, 188 ; and in Greenock, 182.

Of the 21,005 Deaths, 10,400 were males, and 10,605 females. 7934 Deaths were recorded during January, or 256 daily ; 6200 during February, or 221 daily ; 6871 during March, or 222 daily.

MARRIAGES.

6315 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, representing an annual rate of 62 for every ten thousand of estimated population, or 0·62 per cent. Table III. shows that this rate is 0·04 below the average for the corresponding quarter of the last ten years.

In the Principal Town Districts, the Marriage-rate was 76 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; in the Large Town Districts, 71 ; in the Small Town Districts, 57 ; in the Insular-Rural Districts, 52 ; and in the Mainland Rural Districts, 42.

In Perth, the Marriage-rate for the quarter was 88 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; in Glasgow, 85 ; in Dundee, 84 ; in Paisley, 76 ; in Aberdeen, 69 ; in Edinburgh, 68 ; in Leith 65 ; and in Greenock, 53.

3451 Marriages were registered during January, or 111 daily ; 1467 during February, or 52 daily ; 1397 during March, or 44 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The number of Births for the quarter being 31,351, and that of the Deaths 21,005, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes consequent on emigration or immigration, is 10,346. No reliable estimate of the number of immigrants can be formed ; but in regard to emigrants, it appears from the Returns issued by the Board of Trade that the number of these for the quarter was 58,630 of whom 25,537 were English, 4195 Scotch, 9504 Irish, and 18,479 Foreigners, while of 915 the nationality was not distinguished. Of these last, however, 65 may be assumed to be of Scottish origin, thus making the total number of Scottish emigrants to be $4195 + 66$, or 4261. If, then, the number thus arrived at be deducted from the number representing the increase of Births over Deaths, the remainder of 6085 may be taken as the probable increase of the population during the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the total population of Scotland, being resident in these towns, it may be assumed that diseases generally prevailing in them will be found to a fairly corresponding extent throughout the country.

From all causes there occurred 3275 Deaths in January, 2537 in February, and 2726 in March. Of these, 124 in January, 93 in February, and 104 in March were from unspecified or ill-defined causes.

To Miasmatic Diseases 501 deaths were attributed in January, or 4·03 per thousand of estimated population; 386 in February, or 3·43 per thousand; and 365 in March, or 2·93 per thousand.

Small-Pox caused 5 deaths in January, 9 in February, and 7 in March.

Measles caused 307 deaths in January, or 2·47 per thousand of population; 206 in February, or 1·83 per thousand; and 220 in March, or 1·77 per thousand. From Scarlatina there resulted 50 deaths in January, or 0·40 per thousand; 40 in February, or 0·36 per thousand; and 28 in March, or 0·23 per thousand. Hooping-Cough was assigned as the cause of 69 deaths in January, or 0·55 per thousand; 68 in February, or 0·60 per thousand; and 57 in March, or 0·46 per thousand. Diphtheria was stated as the cause of 39 deaths in January, or 0·31 per thousand; 37 in February, or 0·33 per thousand; and 29 in March, or 0·23 per thousand. To Fevers were attributed 15 deaths in January, or 0·12 per thousand; 20 in February, or 0·18 per thousand; and 11 in March, or 0·09 per thousand.

Diarrhoea and Dysentery caused 42 deaths in January, or 0·34 per thousand; 33 in February, or 0·29 per thousand; and 35 in March, or 0·28 per thousand.

To Venereal Diseases were ascribed 11 deaths in January, 10 in February, and 14 in March.

Intemperance was assigned as the cause of 13 deaths in January, 5 in February, and 10 in March.

To Constitutional Diseases were attributed 442 deaths in January, 416 in February, and 508 deaths in March. Of these, 67 in January, 68 in February, and 90 in March were from Cancer; while from Phthisis there resulted 247 deaths in January, or 1·98 per thousand; 235 in February, or 2·09 per thousand; and 274 in March, or 2·20 per thousand.

Developmental Diseases caused 199 deaths in January, 151 in February, and 183 in March.

326 deaths in January, 279 in February, and 289 in March were due to Diseases of the Nervous System.

To Diseases of the Respiratory System were ascribed 922 deaths in January, 636 in February, and 636 in March. Of these, 32 in January, 16 in February, and 19 in March were from Croup; 462 in January, 274 in February, and 275 in March were from Bronchitis; and 329 in January, 250 in February, and 269 in March from Pneumonia.

From Diseases of the Digestive System there resulted 167 deaths in January, 156 in February, and 150 in March.

Under Diseases of the Urinary System fall 74 deaths in January, 68 in February, and 72 in March.

Diseases incidental to Parturition, including Puerperal Fever, caused 19 deaths in January, 14 in February, and 16 in March.

115 deaths in January, 57 in February, and 83 in March, resulted from Violent Causes.

One death in January, 4 deaths in February, and 6 in March were due to Dropsy.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Meteorological Returns which appear in the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports :—

The first half of January was very cold, but about the 17th the temperature rose generally throughout the country; hence the mean temperature is but slightly below the average. Barometric pressure, on the other hand, was high and steady, but not unprecedentedly so.

February was a seasonable month as to average temperature, although the beginning of the month and the third week were marked by a decidedly warm series of days and nights. Barometric pressure, while normal as to range, was lower than it has been since February 1885.

The month of March was singularly warm, dry, and calm, with the high and steady barometric pressure characteristic of such weather at that season. To find so warm a March it is necessary to go back ten years to 1883, when the mean temperature was two degrees warmer.

The mean height of the barometric column, as founded on observations made morning and evening at a series of stations of the Meteorological Society of Scotland, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 29.986 inches in January, 29.535 in February, and 29.975 in March. The mean temperature of the quarter was 39°.1, being 1°.1 above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the past ten years. The mean temperature during January was 36°.3, during February 38°.3, and during March 42°.7. The absolute highest temperature was 58°.2 during January, 56°.5 during February, and 70° 0 during March; the absolute lowest being - 4° 0 during January, 5° 0 during February, and 15° 0 during March. Rain fell on 17 days in January, 18 days in February, and 10 days in March; the mean depth being 2.22 inches in January, 4.01 inches in February, 1.54 inches in March. Winds with an easterly direction blew on 9 days in January, on 7 days in February, and on 6 days in March. Winds with a westerly point blew on 15 days in January, on 14 days in February, and on 18 days in March. Northerly winds blew on 10 days in January, on 6 days in February, and on 6 days in March. Southerly winds blew on 8 days in January, on 11 days in February, and on 9 days in March.

Note.—The population of most of the Registration Counties differs slightly from that of the Civil Counties, in consequence of Parishes extending to more than one County being held by the Registration Act to be within the County in which the Parish Church happens to be situated. For the particular constitution of each Registration District see Report on Census of Scotland for 1881, Vol. I., page 221, et seq.

N.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus:—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus:—
 An asterisk "*" is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or are comprised of more, or parts of more, than one Parish, and the component parts of these Districts will be found on page 48.
 A dagger "†" is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

NOTES ON THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 31st MARCH 1893.

By RALPH COPELAND, Esq., Astronomer-Royal for Scotland, and Professor of Practical Astronomy in the University of Edinburgh.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 55 of the Stations of the Meteorological Society of Scotland, and have been prepared at the Royal Observatory, Edinburgh, from the Observer's separate schedules, as received from the Secretary of the Society, and corrected for instrumental errors.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to have been equally well observed, and to represent the whole country :—

COLLECTED RETURNS FOR ALL THE ACCEPTED STATIONS OF THE METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY OF SCOTLAND, HAVING A MEAN LATITUDE = 56° 30' N.; MEAN LONGITUDE = 3° 40' W.; AND MEAN ELEVATION = 256 Feet, nearly.

And when these results are compared with the average of 1856-92, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences :—

JANUARY 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29.986 inches; greater than the average of 1856-92 by 0.207 inch.

Monthly Range, 1.175 inch; less by 0.472 inch.

Mean Temperature, 36°.3; less by 0°.9.

Mean Daily Range, 9°.6; greater by 0°.4.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 50°.2; greater by 1°.2.

Do. at Night, 27°.9; less by 0°.4.

Mean Humidity, 87; less by 1.

Rain, Number of Days, 17; equal to the average.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 2.22; less by 1.74 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2.41 lbs.; greater by 0.26 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 7 to 11, and N. to S. as 6 to 5; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 11 and N. to S. as 4 to 9.

Hours of Sunshine, 49; less by 12.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6.9; greater by 0.2.

FEBRUARY 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·535 inches ; less than the average of 1856–92 by 0·323 inch.
 Monthly Range, 1·511 inch ; greater by 0·027 inch.
 Mean Temperature, 38°·3 ; equal to the average.
 Mean Daily Range, 10°·4 ; greater by 0°·4.
 Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 60°·5 ; greater by 3°·9.
 Do. at Night, 29°·7 ; greater by 0°·7.
 Mean Humidity, 87 ; equal to the average.
 Rain, Number of Days, 18 ; greater by 4.
 Rain, Depth in Inches, 4·01 ; greater by 1·04 inch.
 Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2·42 lb. ; greater by 0·32 lb.
 Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 5 to 10, and N. to S. as 4 to 7 ; equal to the average.
 Hours of Sunshine, 64 ; less by 21.
 Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·8 ; greater by 0·3.

MARCH 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·975 inches ; greater than the average of 1856–92 by 0·147 inch.
 Monthly Range, 1·182 inch ; less by 0·255 inch.
 Mean Temperature, 42°·7 ; greater by 3°·4.
 Mean Daily Range, 15°·6 ; greater by 3°·7.
 Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 72°·5 ; greater by 7°·9.
 Do. at Night, 30°·9 ; greater by 1°·8.
 Mean Humidity, 83 ; less by 2.
 Rain, Number of Days, 10 ; less by 5.
 Rain, Depth in Inches, 1·54 ; less by 1·27 inch.
 Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2·05 lbs. ; less by 0·08 lb.
 Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 4 to 14, and N. to S. as 4 to 6 ; in place of, E. to W. as 7 to 10, and N. to S. as 6 to 6.
 Hours of Sunshine, 147 ; greater by 25.
 Mean Amount of Cloud, 5·5 ; less by 0·9.

Hence in JANUARY 1893 the more striking meteorological features have been great atmospheric pressure, with small variation of the same ; somewhat low mean temperature, with slightly more than the usual daily range ; humidity just measurable below the mean ; scanty rainfall, spread over the normal number of wet or drizzly days ; unusual proportion of wind from the north and east ; and a slight excess of cloud, associated with a great scarcity of sunshine.

Examined by districts the northern stations show a lower pressure than the southern ones to the slight extent of 0·07 inch, while the monthly range in the north was greater by about 0·13 inch. As usual, height above the sea is the determining cause of low mean temperature, North Esk Reservoir, 1150 feet above the sea, in Peeblesshire, =32°·1, being the coldest station ; Braemar=33°·2, at 1114 feet, and Benquhat in Ayrshire=33°·5, at 1068 feet, approaching it most closely. On the other hand the two western stations of Eallabus and Airds, in Argyllshire, record the highest mean temperatures of 40°·3 and 39°·6. Deerness, in the Orkneys, had the smallest mean daily range of 6°·8, closely followed in this respect by Dollar, in Clackmannanshire, and Leith, each of which had a range of but 7°·2. In Edinburgh the mean daily range was as small as 7°·9. Deerness again, with its insular position, has the smallest monthly range of but 20°·2, in striking contrast to Stobo Castle, in Peeblesshire, where, at a height of 600 feet above the sea, the temperature varied between zero and 53°·0. Braemar, however, returns the absolute minimum of –4°·0, which was registered on the night of the 5th, while the absolute shade maximum occurred at Cupar-Fife on the 23rd.

The rainfall, small on the average, was most irregularly distributed, Glencarron figuring with no less than 10·09 inches, with 23 days of precipitation. Stronvar, in Perthshire, was also exceptionally wet, the catch being 5·68 inches, on the same number of days as the Ross-shire station. The five driest stations each returning less than one inch of rain, or its equivalent in snow, were Arbroath, Edinburgh, Leith, Dalkeith, and Stobo Castle.

Lightning is reported twice from Scourie, and once from Montrose.

Aurora is reported from eight stations ; at one of which, viz., Boyndie, it was seen on three occasions.

FEBRUARY, on the whole, was a wet and sunless month, with low barometric pressure varying in normal degree ; temperature, too, was strictly in accord with the average for the season, and but slightly beyond the mean in extent of daily range ; wind, while coming in the usual proportion from the various quarters, was appreciably beyond the average strength.

As usual in winter the barometer was higher in the south than in the north, but only to the extent of 0·08 inch ; but the monthly range was greater on the average at southern stations by fully 0·16 inch, an exception to the general rule. The northern island stations, however, experienced oscillations of pressure beyond the average for the country, and the steadiest barometer of all was at Airds, in Argyllshire.

The lowest mean temperatures are again reported by the elevated stations, Braemar=34°·0 being the coldest, but nearly matched by North Esk Reservoir=34°·4. The low-lying western station of Eallabus=41°·6, and Airds=41°·1, again figure as the warmest places in Scotland at this season.

Quite in accord with former experience the smallest mean daily range, $=6^{\circ}2$, occurred at Deerness, while Stobo Castle furnishes the other extreme of no less than $15^{\circ}0$ as the daily fluctuation of temperature.

Rain or snow came down abundantly throughout the country, the wet station of Stronvar heading the list with 8.92 inches, caught on 25 days of this short month. Glencarron, too, has the heavy return of 8.37 inches, with 19 days of falling; while no observer records so little as two inches.

Lightning was seen on two occasions at Cargen and Cally, and at seven stations altogether.

Auroras were relatively frequent, the watchful observer at Boyndie having seen no less than four, while Deerness and Eyemouth each report three occurrences.

Finally, MARCH has been singularly dry and warm, with the high and steady barometric pressure characteristic of anti-cyclonic weather, accompanied by the large daily range of temperature consequent on small humidity and clear bright skies.

Considered with regard to geographical latitude the northern district has experienced less atmospheric pressure by 0.13 inch, but a wider range of the same, by 0.25 inch, than the southern parts of the country.

The mean temperature of $42^{\circ}7$ is higher than has obtained in the corresponding month since 1882, when it was $42^{\circ}0$. The warmth extended over all the stations, Braemar= $39^{\circ}4$ and North Esk Reservoir= $39^{\circ}6$ being the coldest stations, and even they were warmer than the average for the whole country at this season, viz., $39^{\circ}3$. Eallabus, with a temperature of $46^{\circ}0$, was the warmest station; while Deerness had the smallest daily range of $9^{\circ}0$, quite in accordance with their surroundings.

The highest shade record of $70^{\circ}0$ was noted at Wolfelee, in Roxburghshire, on the 25th; while the minimum of $15^{\circ}0$ was registered both at Stobo Castle and Drumlanrig. Frost was felt at all the stations, but only to a slight degree at sheltered places in the west.

Most remarkable has been the advance of the seasons, March having been no less than $6^{\circ}4$ warmer than January, whereas the usual difference of temperature between these months is but $2^{\circ}1$; or, to put it in another way, March 1893 has been only $1^{\circ}3$ colder than an average April.

Although the precipitation has, on the whole, been scanty, none of the Scottish stations have been altogether without rain, as has been the case with many places in the south of the island. The very wet station of Glencarron, indeed, reports no less than 9.14 inches, caught on 20 wet days; but this is quite an exception, the next largest catch being 3.70 inches at Scourie, with 10 days of falling. Dalkeith, one of the driest places in the country, has the smallest return of 0.30 inch, restricted to four showery days. It may be mentioned that, in spite of the heavy rainfall in February, the total precipitation for the three first months of this year is no less than 1.97 inches below the average for the last 36 years.

Lightning was seen at seven stations; the same being the case with Aurora.

A brilliant meteor crossed the country in full daylight, from south-east to north-west, at about 6.20 p.m., on March 18th. It was well seen at Glencarron, Arbroath, Stronvar, Rothesay, and many other places.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

IN compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

“If at any time the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, &c., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance.”

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

I. NORTHERN DIVISION.

1. SHETLAND.

5. (2) BURRA AND QUARFF. — The three persons, whose deaths are registered this quarter, were aged 48, 70, and 91 years respectively.

7. (4) WHALSAY SKERRIES. — This district is free of epidemics.

10. (2) WHITENESS AND WEISDALE. — The two persons who died in March were respectively 90 and 95 years of age.

11. UNST. — Death-rate exceptionally low.

2. ORKNEY.

19. HOLM. — Births under the average.

24. ROUSAY AND EGILSHAY. — No epidemics during the quarter.

3. CAITHNESS.

36. DUNNET. — One of the persons who died during the quarter was 95 years of age.

42. WATTEN. — Births and Marriages below, and deaths above the average. Six of the deaths registered were those of persons whose ages averaged 79 years.

4. SUTHERLAND.

48. DURNES. — The ages of the 7 people who died during the quarter were 25, 82, 94, 80, 79, 78, and 79 years respectively.

53. LAIRG. — No epidemics during the quarter. The ages of the five persons who died during the quarter averaged 59 years the oldest was 74 years of age.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

57. ALNESS. — Measles, of a mild type prevalent.

68. KILLEARNAN.—Deaths above the average.
75 (1). LOCHBROOM.—Births below the average.
One case of Measles reported.

81. ROSSKEEN.—Two schools in the parish have been closed owing to the prevalence of Measles.

82. TAIN.—Births and Deaths below the average.

Insular.

86b. CARLOWAY.—Births above, Marriages below the average. The death-rate is high, owing to the prevalence of Hooping-Cough.

88. STORNAWAY.—Marriages below the average, owing to the parties going to Glasgow to be married.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

95. DAVIOT AND DUNLIGHTY.—Deaths above the average. No epidemics.

99 (1). GLENGARRY.—Scarlet-Fever of a mild type prevalent.

Insular.

111 (1). NORTH HARRIS.—Typhus Fever, confined to one family, was reported during the quarter.

113. NORTH UIST.—Fever has been prevalent in the parish for the last eleven months. One of the deaths registered in January was that of a person 107 years of age.

118 (1). BENBECULA.—Marriages above the average.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

7. NAIRN.

121. AULDEARN.—A birth of triplets was registered in March.

8. ELGIN.

129. DALLAS.—Births and Deaths below the average.

137. FORRES.—The majority of the mothers of the illegitimate children born during the quarter, belong to other parishes.

9. BANFF.

148. BOTRIPHNIE.—Measles very prevalent.

149. BOYNDIE.—The school in the village of Whitehills is closed owing to the prevalence of Measles.

153 (2). PORTSOY.—Two of the deaths registered resulted from Measles, an epidemic of which occurred during January and February.

158. KEITH.—Ten deaths resulted from Measles in March. Measles prevalent during all the quarter, Hooping-Cough during the month of March.

10. ABERDEEN.

169. ABERDOUR.—Births, Deaths, and Marriages below the average.

170. ABOYNE.—Measles and Mumps prevalent during the quarter.

172. AUCHINDOIR.—The ages of the persons who died during the quarter were—Males, 1 hour, 63, 67, and 78 years of age; Females, 53 and 72 years of age.

182. COULL.—One of the deaths registered was that of a child whose body was found in a field.

186. CULSAMOND.—The deaths registered during the quarter were those of persons aged respectively 84, 97, and 16 years.

194. FORGUE.—Diphtheria and Scarlet-Fever prevalent since the beginning of March.

214. LEOCHEL-CUSHNIE.—Measles prevalent from the middle of January to the end of February.

222a. MIDMAR.—The only death registered during the quarter was that of a child 7 weeks of age.

227b. NEW PITSLIGO.—Hooping-Cough prevalent. Of the 13 deaths registered during the quarter, five were of persons whose ages ranged from 76 to 91 years.

228. OLD DEER.—Deaths below the average for the last twenty years.

230. OYNE.—Within the last seven months there have been registered three deaths from suicidal hanging.

233. PITSLIGO.—Measles prevalent, 12 deaths from this disease occurred in Rosehearty, where the public school was closed on recommendation of the Medical Authority.

234. PREMAY.—The two deaths registered during the quarter were those of an infant six months old, and of a travelling broom-maker 81 years of age.

243. TARVES.—Scarlet-Fever of a mild type prevalent.

249b. YTHAN WELLS.—Three deaths from Diphtheria were registered during March.

11. KINCARDINE.

263. LAURENCEKIRK.—Births, deaths, and marriages below the average.

267. ST CYRUS.—Deaths below the average.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

271.—ARBIRLOT.—Measles of a mild type prevalent.

276. CARMYLIE.—Deaths above the average. Of the 10 deaths registered, 7 were of persons aged respectively 59, 67, 78, 82, 83, 84, and 87 years.

282 (4). ST ANDREW (DUNDEE).—The number of deaths registered during the quarter is 140 in excess of the number registered during the corresponding quarter of last year. This is accounted for by the prevalence of Measles, which caused 109 deaths. The decrease in the number of marriages resulted from the depression in the ship-building and engineering works.

304. LOGIE-PERT.—Deaths below the average.

307. MAINS (DUNDEE).—Measles prevalent.

* The actual number of Districts is 1056—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 5 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.

BIRTHS.

33,803 Births were registered during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 331 per ten thousand, or 3·31 per cent.

The Annual Birth-rate in the Large Town Districts was 365 per ten thousand; in the Principal Town Districts, 350; in the Small Town Districts, 338; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 292; and in the Insular-Rural Districts 195.

For every ten thousand persons in Edinburgh the annual Birth-rate was 293 ; in Perth, 312 ; in Dundee, 325 ; in Aberdeen, 330 ; in Leith, 344 ; in Paisley, 345 ; in Greenock, 353 ; and in Glasgow, 371.

Of the 33,803 Births, 2355 were illegitimate, constituting 7·0 per cent. of the whole. In the Insular-Rural Districts, 4·8 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate ; in the Large Town Districts, 6·0 ; in the Small Town Districts, 6·2 ; in the Principal Town Districts, 6·8 ; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 9·0 per cent.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. From Table I. it will be seen that the highest proportion of illegitimate Births occurred in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions ; the rate in the former Division being 12·5 per cent., and in the latter 12·8 per cent. Table II. shows that in ten of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was 10 per cent. or above ; and further, that the lowest rate in any County occurred in Sutherland, viz., 2·0 per cent., and the highest in Wigtown viz., 15·2 per cent.

Of the 33,803 Births, 17,375 were males, and 16,428 females, being in the proportion of 105·8 males to every 100 females. 10,847 Births were registered during April ; 11,991 during May ; and 10,965 during June. The daily rate was thus 362 in April ; 387 during May ; and 366 in June.

DEATHS.

During the quarter there were registered in Scotland the Deaths of 19,588 persons, being at the annual rate of 192 for every ten thousand of estimated population. As will be seen on reference to Table III., this rate is the same as the average for the corresponding quarter during the last ten years.

The number of Deaths registered in England and Wales during the quarter was 132,860, being at the rate of 179 for every ten thousand of the estimated population.

The Death-rate in the Principal Town Districts was 216 for every ten thousand persons ; in the Large Town Districts 203 ; in the Small Town Districts, 182 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 161 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 138.

For every ten thousand persons in Glasgow, the Death-rate was 250 ; in Greenock, 243 ; in Paisley, 206 ; in Dundee and Perth, each, 189 ; in Edinburgh, 180 ; in Aberdeen, 178 ; and in Leith, 162.

Of the 19,588 Deaths, 9846 were males, and 9742 females. 6448 Deaths were recorded during April, or 215 daily ; 6742 during May, or 218 daily ; 6398 during June or 213 daily.

MARRIAGES.

6959 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, representing an annual rate of 68 for every ten thousand of estimated population, or 0·68 per cent. Table III. shows that this rate is 0·01 above the average for the corresponding quarter of the last ten years.

In the Principal Town Districts, the Marriage-rate was 87 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; in the Large Town Districts, 67 ; in the Small Town Districts, 58 ; in the Mainland Rural Districts, 52 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 23.

In Edinburgh, the Marriage-rate for the quarter was 97 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; in Glasgow, 95 ; in Aberdeen, 87 ; in Perth, 83 ; in Leith, 76 ; in Paisley, 75 ; in Dundee, 68 ; and in Greenock, 55.

1999 Marriages were registered during April, or 67 daily ; 1098 during May, or 35 daily ; and 3862 during June, or 129 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The number of Births for the quarter being 33,803, and that of the Deaths 19,588, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes consequent on emigration or immigration, is 14,215. No reliable estimate of the number of immigrants can be formed ; but in regard to emigrants, it appears from the Returns issued by the Board of Trade that the number of these for the quarter was 120,458 of whom 42,927 were English, 8064 Scotch, 23,852 Irish, and 45,055 Foreigners, while of 560 the nationality was not distinguished. Of these last, however, 38 may be assumed to be of Scottish origin, thus making the total number of Scottish emigrants to be 8064 + 38, or 8102. If, then, the number thus arrived at be deducted from the number representing the increase of Births over Deaths, the remainder of 6113 may be taken as the probable increase of the population during the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the total population of Scotland, being resident in these towns, it may be assumed that diseases generally prevailing in them will be found to a fairly corresponding extent throughout the country.

From all causes there occurred 2653 Deaths in April, 2691 in May, and 2563 in June. Of these, 111 in April, 106 in May, and 98 in June, were from unspecified or ill-defined causes.

To Miasmatic Diseases 363 deaths were attributed in April, or 3·01 per thousand of estimated population; 416 in May, or 3·34 per thousand; and 387 in June, or 3·21 per thousand.

Small-Pox caused 3 deaths in April, 4 in May, and 1 in June.

Measles caused 209 deaths in April, or 1·74 per thousand of estimated population; 211 in May, or 1·70 per thousand; and 209 in June, or 1·74 per thousand. From Scarlatina there resulted 21 deaths in April, or 0·17 per thousand; 31 in May, or 0·25 per thousand; and 23 in June, or 0·19 per thousand. Hooping-Cough was assigned as the cause of 79 deaths in April, or 0·66 per thousand; 116 in May, or 0·93 per thousand; and 94 in June, or 0·78 per thousand. Diphtheria was stated as the cause of 19 deaths in April and May, or 0·16 and 0·15 per thousand respectively; and 28 deaths in June, or 0·23 per thousand. To Fevers were attributed 21 deaths in April, or 0·17 per thousand; 20 in May, or 0·16 per thousand; and 24 in June, or 0·20 per thousand.

Diarrhœa and Dysentery caused 31 deaths in April, or 0·26 per thousand; 44 in May, or 0·35 per thousand; and 127 in June, or 1·05 per thousand.

To Venereal Diseases were ascribed 12 deaths in April, 9 in May, and 7 in June.

Intemperance was assigned as the cause of 6 deaths in April, 4 in May, and 11 in June.

To Constitutional Diseases were attributed 476 deaths in April, 507 in May, and 497 in June. Of these 89 in April, 89 in May, and 100 in June, were from Cancer; while from Phthisis there resulted 260 in April, or 2·16 per thousand; 279 in May, or 2·24 per thousand; and 257 in June, or 2·13 per thousand.

Developmental Diseases caused 177 deaths in April, 192 in May, and 171 in June.

324 deaths in April, 276 in May, and 290 in June, were due to Diseases of the Nervous System.

To Diseases of the Respiratory System were ascribed 558 deaths in April, 497 in May, and 404 in June. Of these, 17 in April, 13 in May, and 21 in June, were from Croup; 238 in April, 191 in May, and 169 in June were from Bronchitis; and 227 in April, 229 in May, and 177 in June, were from Pneumonia.

From Diseases of the Digestive System there resulted 171 deaths in April, 147 in May, and 185 in June.

Under Diseases of the Urinary System fall 61 deaths in April, 87 in May, and 58 in June.

Diseases incidental to Parturition, including Puerperal Fever, caused 18 deaths in April, 18 in May, and 21 in June.

79 deaths in April, 100 in May, and 88 in June, resulted from Violent Causes.

2 deaths in April, 3 in May, and 5 in June were due to Dropsy.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports:—

The month of April was unusually warm in temperature, with a large diurnal variation, with high and comparatively steady barometric pressure, and with a wind velocity under the average, in which eastern and western winds were most frequently represented. The rainfall, nearly the whole of which fell from the 15th to the 20th of the month, was 31 per cent under the average rainfall of the eight towns.

May was a month with unusually high temperature, with a diurnal variation a little under the average, high and comparatively steady barometric pressure, and a wind velocity slightly under the average, in which east winds were 2 days above, and west winds 2 days under, the mean.

The temperature was 4°·4 above the average, being absolutely the warmest May since these observations began in 1856.

The rainfall on the mean of the eight towns was 14 per cent. under the average.

June was, on the whole, a month with a temperature decidedly above the average, a mean rainfall nearly the average, and a barometric pressure and range a little above the average.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 30·166 inches in April, 30·038 inches in May, and 29·979 inches in June. The mean temperature of the quarter was 52°·2, being 3°·5 above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the last ten years. The mean temperature during April was 47°·2, during May 52°·4, and during June 57°·0. The absolute highest temperature was 79°·0 during April, 78°·0 during May, and 90°·0 during June; the absolute lowest being 23°·0 during April, 24°·0 during May, and 34°·0 during June. Rain fell on 9 days in April, 13 days in May, and on 9 days in June; the mean depth being 1·40 inches in April, 1·88 inches in May, and 2·12 inches in June. Winds with an easterly direction blew on 10 days in April, 12 days in May, and 10 days in June. Winds with a westerly point blew on 11 days in April, 11 days in May, and 11 days in June. Northerly winds blew on 9 days in April, 6 days in May, and 9 days in June. Southerly winds blew on 8 days in April, 12 days in May, and 9 days in June.

Note.—The population of most of the Registration Counties differs slightly from that of the Civil Counties, in consequence of Parishes extending to more than one County being held by the Registration Act to be within the County in which the Parish Church happens to be situated. For the particular constitution of each Registration District see Report on Census of Scotland for 1881, Vol. I., page 221, et seq.

N.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus:—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus:—CARLUKE.

An asterisk "*" is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or are comprised of more, or parts of more, than one Parish, and the component parts of these Districts will be found on page 43. A dagger "†" is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

† Return not received. The numbers given are estimated from the corresponding quarters of the last three years.

NOTES OF THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 30TH JUNE 1893.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 55 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to represent fairly well the whole country :—

COLLECTED RETURNS FOR ALL THE ACCEPTED STATIONS OF THE SCOTTISH METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY, HAVING A MEAN LATITUDE = 56° 30' N.; MEAN LONGITUDE = 3° 39' W.; AND MEAN ELEVATION = 255 Feet.

And when these results are compared with the average of 1856-92, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences :—

APRIL 1893—

- Mean Barometric Pressure, 30·166 inches; greater than the average of 1856-92 by 0·283 inch.
- Monthly Range, 0·902 inch; less by 0·295 inch.
- Mean Temperature, 47°·2; greater by 3°·2.
- Mean Daily Range, 18°·7; greater by 4°·5.
- Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 87°·7; greater by 13°·3.
- Do. at Night, 33°·7; greater by 1°·7.
- Mean Humidity, 80; less by 2.
- Rain, Number of Days, 9; less by 4.
- Rain, Depth in Inches, 1·40; less by 0·75 inch.
- Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·18 lbs.; less by 0·59 lb.
- Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 9 to 8, and N. to S. as 6 to 6; in place of E. to W. as 8 to 8 and N. to S. as 6 to 7.
- Hours of Sunshine, 185; greater by 24.
- Mean Amount of Cloud, 5·0; less by 1·3.

MAY 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 30·038 inches ; greater than the average of 1856–92 by 0·118 inch.
 Monthly Range, 1·059 inch ; less by 0·015 inch.
 Mean Temperature, 52°·4 ; greater by 3°·5.
 Mean Daily Range, 15°·5 ; being the average.
 Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 93°·5 ; greater by 11°·0.
 Do. at Night, 40°·9 ; greater by 4°·8.
 Mean Humidity, 79 ; less by 1.
 Rain, Number of Days, 13 ; being the average.
 Rain, Depth in Inches, 1·88 ; less by 0·41 inch.
 Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·54 lb. ; less by 0·03 lb.
 Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 9 to 8, and N. to S. as 4 to 8 ; in place of E. to W. as 7 to 9, and N. to S. as 6 to 7.
 Hours of Sunshine, 167 ; less by 30.
 Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·6 ; greater by 0·4.

JUNE 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·979 inches ; greater than the average of 1856–92 by 0·044 inch.
 Monthly Range, 1·107 inch ; greater by 0·186 inch.
 Mean Temperature, 57°·0 ; greater by 2°·3.
 Mean Daily Range, 17°·3 ; greater by 1°·5.
 Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 100°·1 ; greater by 9°·4.
 Do. at Night, 43°·6 ; greater by 1°·8.
 Mean Humidity, 78 ; less by 2.
 Rain, Number of Days, 9 ; less by 4.
 Rain, Depth in Inches, 2·12 ; less by 0·37 inch.
 Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·01 lb. ; less by 0·43 lb.
 Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 7 to 8, and N. to S. as 6 to 6 ; in place of, E. to W. as 6 to 10, and N. to S. as 5 to 7.
 Hours of Sunshine, 202 ; less by 14.
 Mean Amount of Cloud, 5·7 ; less by 0·5.

In APRIL both barometric pressure and range were unusually large, the mean temperature greatly above the average, the daily range among the largest hitherto recorded, the rainfall only a very little above two-thirds of the average, sunshine greater by 15 per cent., cloud less by 21 per cent., and the direction of the wind nearly normal, but its force considerably less than the average of April.

The barometer was highest, 30·208 inches, on the Cheviots, from which, on advancing northwards, it steadily diminished to 30·070 inches at North Unst. This was the warmest April which has yet occurred since 1856, when the Society was established ; and was accompanied with a daily range of temperature also phenomenally large, and frequent frosts in many places. The highest mean temperatures, many from 4°·0 to 5°·0 above the average, were recorded in inland situations both in the north and south ; and the lowest at the east coast stations from Kinnaird Head to the Tweed, where the means were only about a degree and a half above the normals. The highest shade temperature, 79°·0, was recorded at Inverness on the 19th, and the lowest, 23°·0, at Braemar, on the 9th.

The mean rainfall was 1·40 inch, being one-third less than the average. Its distribution over the country was very unequal. Less than a half was collected at many places in the following three extensive districts,—in the triangular space from Boyndie to Stronvar, and thence to Montrose ; to the south of a line from Eyemouth to Wigtown ; and in Orkney. In each of these districts less than a fourth of the average of April was recorded. On the other hand, over the greater part of Argyllshire the rainfall was above the average, the excess in some places rising to 50 per cent. The largest rainfall, 3·84 inches, fell at Glencarron, Ross-shire, and the smallest, 0·30 inch, at Stobo Castle.

Thunder and lightning are reported from 20 stations, chiefly in eastern and inland situations ; and auroras at 4 stations, all north of the Grampians.

MAY was a very warm, dry month, with the barometric pressure above the mean, temperature exceptionally high, but only of average daily range, rainfall considerably under the mean, and wind, as regards force, the average, and as regards direction, an excess of E. and S. winds.

The barometer was everywhere above the mean, the excess was greater at eastern than at western stations, and from the manner of geographical distribution resulted the greater prevalence of easterly and southerly winds. The pressure was lowest along a line passing from the south of Orkney to Stornoway, north as well as south of which it rose.

Mean temperature was 3°·5 above the mean, being the second highest that has occurred in May from 1856, the highest being in 1889, which was 4°·2 above the normal. The excess was greatest at inland and southern stations, and less in the north and on the coasts. At many inland places, temperature was upwards of 4°·0 above the average, but in Orkney and Shetland generally the excess did not amount to 2°·0. The highest temperature, 78°·0, occurred at Smeaton on the 4th, and the lowest, 24°·0, at Stobo Castle on the 1st.

The average rainfall was 1·88 inch, or 18 per cent. under the average. At strictly western stations from Scourie southward, it was generally above the average, and also at Paisley, Glasgow, Drumlanrig, Bowhill, and Duns Castle, the greatest excess being 30 per cent. at Glasgow and Paisley.

In all other parts of Scotland the rainfall was under the average, the greatest deficiency being over the eastern side of Scotland, amounting in a large number of places to fully 50 per cent.; in other words, scarcely half the average rainfall of May was collected. The largest rainfall, 3·95 inches, fell at Glencarron, and the lowest, 0·30 inch, at Stobo Castle.

Thunder and lightning were unusually frequent, 5 being reported from Marchmont, and at 25 stations in all parts of the country. Auroras are reported only at two stations, North Unst and Ladylaw, Hawick.

In JUNE barometric pressure and mean daily range were both above the means, temperature also considerably above the mean, but less so than in the previous three months, humidity was low, and rainfall under the mean, and falling on four days fewer than usual.

The barometric pressure was higher at western than at eastern stations, in place of lower, as is usually the case, which resulted in a slightly greater prevalence of northerly winds.

The mean temperature was 2°·3 above the average, the greatest excess occurring at inland and south-western stations, where at many places it was fully 3°·0, and the least in the north, the excess in Shetland being only one degree. The daily range was 1°·5 above the mean. The maximum temperature, 90°·0, occurred at Ochertyre on the 19th, and the minimum, 34°·0, at Benquhat on the 20th, thus giving the large monthly range, 56°·0. The above maximum is higher than any that has occurred for many years. Though the sunshine was 14 hours under the average, yet the mean black bulb was 9°·4 above the average, thus indicating strong insolation during the month.

The mean rainfall was 2·12 inches, or 15 per cent. under the average. Its distribution over the country was very unequal, it being above the average over the eastern side of the country from the Moray Firth southward, but under the average elsewhere. This inequality of distribution was due to the rains of the 22nd and 23rd, when, on these two days, 4·20 inches fell at the North Esk Reservoir, 3·30 inches at Rosewell, and about 2·00 inches at many eastern stations. On the other hand, on these days little or no rain fell in the west. The excess for the month was in percentages, 96 at North Esk Reservoir, 95 at Aberdeen, 78 at Haddington, and 45 at Fettercairn. The greatest deficiency occurred from the Crinan Canal northwards, only about a fourth of the average rainfall of June being collected at several places. The largest rainfall, 4·70 inches, occurred at North Esk Reservoir, and the smallest, 0·23 inch, at Kirkwall.

The mean force of the wind is the lowest recorded for the month since 1867.

Thunder and lightning are reported at 28 stations.

* The actual number of Districts is 1056—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 5 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.

BIRTHS.

31,287 Births were registered during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 303 per ten thousand, or 3·03 per cent.

The Annual Birth-rate in the Large Town Districts was 329 per ten thousand ; in the Principal Town Districts, 316 ; in the Small Town Districts, 310 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 269 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts 233.

For every ten thousand persons in Edinburgh the annual Birth-rate was 266 ; in Perth, 276 ; in Dundee, 294 ; in Greenock, 311 ; in Leith, 319 ; in Aberdeen, 329 ; in Glasgow, 330 ; and in Paisley, 335.

Of the 31,287 Births, 2327 were illegitimate, constituting 7·4 per cent. of the whole. In the Insular-Rural Districts, 5·0 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate ; in the Large Town Districts, 5·6 ; in the Small Town Districts, 6·7 ; in the Principal Town Districts, 7·5 ; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 9·5 per cent.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. From Table I. it will be seen that the highest proportion of illegitimate Births occurred in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions ; the rate in the former Division being 13·1 per cent., and in the latter 11·8 per cent. Table II. shows that in eight of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was above 10 per cent. ; and further, that the lowest rate in any County occurred in Bute, viz., 1·8 per cent., and the highest in Wigtown viz., 15·5 per cent.

Of the 31,287 Births, 15,959 were males, and 15,328 females being in the proportion of 104·1 males to 100 females. 10,533 Births were registered in July ; 10,477 during August ; and 10,277 during September. The daily rate was thus 340 in July ; 338 during August ; and 343 in September.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The number of Births for the quarter being 31,287, and that of the Deaths 18,638, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes consequent on emigration or immigration, is 12,649. No reliable estimate of the number of immigrants can be formed ; but in regard to emigrants, it appears from the Returns issued by the Board of Trade that the number of these for the quarter was 82,340 of whom 42,434 were English, 6957 Scotch, 13,877 Irish, and 17,755 Foreigners, while of 1317 the nationality was not distinguished. Of these last, however, 113 may be assumed to be of Scottish origin, thus making the total number of Scottish emigrants to be 6957 + 113, or 7070. If, then, the number thus arrived at be deducted from the number representing the increase of Births over Deaths, the remainder of 5579 may be taken as the probable increase of the population during the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the total population of Scotland, being resident in these towns, it may be assumed that diseases generally prevailing in them will be found to a fairly corresponding extent throughout the country.

From all causes there occurred 2588 Deaths in July, 2471 in August, and 2289 in September. Of these, 107 in July, 118 in August, and 110 in September, were from unspecified or ill-defined causes.

To Miasmatic Diseases 306 deaths were attributed in July, or 2·46 per thousand of estimated population ; 284 in August, or 2·28 per thousand ; and 250 in September, or 2·08 per thousand.

Small-Pox caused 1 death in July.

Measles caused 104 deaths in July, or 0·84 per thousand of estimated population ; 47 in August, or 0·38 per thousand ; and 10 in September, or 0·08 per thousand. From Scarlatina there resulted 28 deaths in July, or 0·22 per thousand ; 34 in August, or 0·27 per thousand ; and 26 in September, or 0·22 per thousand. Hooping-Cough was assigned as the cause of 111 deaths in July, or 0·89 per thousand ; 115 in August, or 0·92 per thousand ; and 101 in September, or 0·84 per thousand. Diphtheria was stated as the cause of 22 deaths in July, or 0·18 per thousand ; 34 in August, or 0·27 per thousand ; and 56 in September, or 0·46 per thousand. To Fevers were attributed 25 deaths in July, or 0·20 per thousand ; 39 in August, or 0·31 per thousand ; and 49 in September, or, 0·41 per thousand.

Diarrhœa and Dysentery caused 249 deaths in July, or 2·00 per thousand ; 210 in August, or 1·69 per thousand ; and 201 in September, or 1·67 per thousand.

To Venereal Diseases were ascribed 11 deaths in July, 5 in August, and 10 in September.

Intemperance was assigned as the cause of 11 deaths in July, 10 in August, and 10 in September.

To Constitutional Diseases were attributed 482 deaths in July, 426 in August, and 412 in September. Of these 89 in July, 76 in August, and 84 in September, were from Cancer; while from Phthisis there resulted 242 deaths in July, or 1·94 per thousand; 213 in August, or 1·71 per thousand; and 213 in September, or 1·77 per thousand.

Developmental Diseases caused 167 deaths in July, 156 in August, and 158 in September.

287 deaths in July, 252 in August, and 244 in September, were due to Diseases of the Nervous System.

To Diseases of the Respiratory System were ascribed 355 deaths in July, 335 in August, and 298 in September. Of these, 12 in July, 15 in August, and 24 in September, were from Croup; 129 in July, 142 in August, and 118 in September, were from Bronchitis; and 169 in July, 131 in August, and 116 in September, were from Pneumonia.

From Diseases of the Digestive System there resulted 223 deaths in July, 260 in August, and 214 in September.

Under Diseases of the Urinary System fall 56 deaths in July, 65 in August, and 71 in September.

Diseases incidental to Parturition, including Puerperal Fever, caused 13 deaths in July, 19 in August, and 11 in September.

79 deaths in July, 89 in August, and 80 in September, resulted from Violent Causes.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports :—

July was, on the average, a month with a barometric pressure and a temperature a little above the average, a daily range of temperature, a mean humidity, and a rainfall, both as regards amount and frequency of fall, the average.

The weather of August was characterised by a temperature higher than has been yet recorded since the Meteorological Society was established in 1855. An average rainfall, and a barometric pressure and range above the average. It was the sixth consecutive month of the year whose temperature was above the average.

The month of September was characterised by a marked predominance of westerly winds somewhat above the average strength, with a temperature and rainfall under the average. Barometric pressure was rather low, but a little higher at western than at eastern stations in the same latitude, resulting in an excess of northerly winds and a reduced temperature and humidity.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 29·848 inches in July, 29·908 inches in August, and 29·718 inches in September. The mean temperature was 56°·3, being 1°·4 above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the last ten years. The mean temperature during July was 57°·6, during August 59°·4, and during September 51°·8. The absolute highest temperature was 83°·0 during July, 87°·0 during August, and 77°·0 during September; the absolute lowest being 33°·0 during July, 25°·0 during August, and 23°·0 during September. Rain fell on 16 days in July, 17 days in August, and on 17 days in September; the mean depth being 3·35 inches in July, 3·56 inches in August, and 3·45 inches in September. Winds with an easterly direction blew on 10 days in July, 5 days in August, and 4 days in September. Winds with a westerly point blew on 13 days in July, 17 days in August, and 19 days in September. Northerly winds blew on 10 days in July, 7 days in August, and 8 days in September. Southerly winds blew on 9 days in July, 12 days in August, and 9 days in September.

Note.—The population of most of the Registration Counties differs slightly from that of the Civil Counties, in consequence of Parishes extending to more than one County being held by the Registration Act to be within the County in which the Parish Church happens to be situated. For the particular constitution of each Registration District see Report on Census of Scotland for 1891, Vol. I., page 239, et seq.

N.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus:—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus:—CARLUKE.

An asterisk “*” is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or are comprised of more, or parts of more, than one Parish, and the component parts of these Districts will be found on page 43. A dagger “†” is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

Return not received. The numbers given are estimated from those of the corresponding quarter for the last three years.

NOTES OF THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1893.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 55 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to represent fairly well the whole country :—

And when these results are compared with the average of 1856-92, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences :—

JULY 1893—

- Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·848 inches; less than the average of 1856-92 by 0·027 inch.
- Monthly Range, 0·961 inch; greater by 0·053 inch.
- Mean Temperature, 57°·6; greater by 0°·4.
- Mean Daily Range, 14°·7; less by 0°·2.
- Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 98°·0; greater by 6°·3.
- Do. at Night, 46°·4; greater by 1°·7.
- Mean Humidity, 82; being the average.
- Rain, Number of Days, 16; greater by 1.
- Rain, Depth in Inches, 3·35; greater by 0·22 inch.
- Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·50 lbs.; greater by 0·08 lb.
- Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 7 to 9, and N. to S. as 7 to 5; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 11 and N. to S. as 5 to 7.
- Hours of Sunshine, 147; less by 54.
- Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·9; greater by 0·3.

AUGUST 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·908 inches ; greater than the average of 1856–92 by 0·057 inch.
 Monthly Range, 1·175 inch ; greater by 0·189 inch.
 Mean Temperature, 59°·4 ; greater by 2°·8.
 Mean Daily Range, 15°·6 ; greater by 1°·2.
 Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 99°·5 ; greater by 10°·2.
 Do. at Night, 47°·4 ; greater by 3°·4.
 Mean Humidity, 82 ; less by 2.
 Rain, Number of Days, 17 ; greater by 1.
 Rain, Depth in Inches, 3·56 ; greater by 0·01 inch.
 Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·05 lb. ; less by 0·30 lb.
 Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 4 to 12, and N. to S. as 4 to 8 ; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 11 and N. to S. as 5 to 8.
 Hours of Sunshine, 167 ; less by 9.
 Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·5 ; being the average.

SEPTEMBER 1893—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·718 inches ; less than the average of 1856–92 by 0·126 inch.
 Monthly Range, 1·426 inch ; greater by 0·261 inch.
 Mean Temperature, 51°·8 ; less by 1°·0.
 Mean Daily Range, 14°·9 ; greater by 1°·1.
 Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 88°·9 ; greater by 6°·5.
 Do. at Night, 40°·4 ; less by 0°·2.
 Mean Humidity, 82 ; less by 4.
 Rain, Number of Days, 17 ; greater by 1.
 Rain, Depth in Inches, 3·45 ; less by 0·22 inch.
 Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2·05 lbs. ; less by 0·42 lb.
 Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 3 to 14, and N. to S. as 5 to 6 ; in place of, E. to W. as 5 to 11, and N. to S. as 4 to 7.
 Hours of Sunshine, 121 ; less by 21.
 Mean Amount of Cloud, 5·9 ; less by 0·4.

Hence JULY 1893 has been characterised by a mean temperature, daily range of temperature, and humidity about the average ; by a barometric pressure a little under, and a monthly range a little above the average, and by four days excess of northerly and easterly winds.

Barometric pressure was 0·050 inch lower at North Unst than in Galloway, but nearly the same at eastern and western stations in the same latitudes. It was thus relatively greater in the north and west than usual, resulting in an excess of northerly and easterly winds and a temperature nearly half a degree under the average.

Temperature was unequally distributed over the country, being on the one hand about half a degree under the average at stations on the east coast from Kinnaird Head to the Tweed, and on the other, about three degrees above the average in the west of Inverness-shire and north-west of Argyll-shire. The absolute highest temperature was 83°·0 at Stobo on the 7th, and the lowest 33°·0 at Cupar on the 1st.

Rainfall while slightly above the average, was distributed among the stations with singular inequality, due largely to the prevalence of thunderstorms with their accompanying rains and their unequal distribution. At Arbroath the amount was 48 per cent. under the average, whereas at Poltalloch, near the Crinan Canal it was 124 per cent. above it. At Poltalloch 9·46 inches fell, and the following large daily falls were recorded—1·86 inch on the 9th ; 1·50 inch on the 19th ; 1·34 inch on the 20th ; 1·15 inch on the 13th, and nearly an inch on the 8th and 25th ; these falls being nearly equalled at the neighbouring station at Fladda Lighthouse.

The amount of cloud was above the average, and the hours of sunshine very greatly under the average. The number of hours recorded was only 147, being the smallest number since July 1879 when the number was 144, and these are the smallest numbers of hours of sunshine for this month hitherto recorded by the Society.

Thunderstorms are reported from 34 stations, being 5 above the average, the larger number occurring in western and southern localities.

AUGUST 1893 was characterised by a temperature very much above the average, having, for all Scotland, a higher temperature than had been previously recorded by the Society, except in August 1857, which was 0°·6 higher ; a rainfall about the average, and a barometric pressure and range above the average.

The mean temperature was 2°·8 above the mean temperature of the past 37 years, and the mean daily range 1°·2 greater. In Shetland, the excess of temperature was only half a degree, whereas on the mainland generally it varied from 2°·5 to 4°·2, the greatest excess occurring between the Forth and the Cheviots ; and, as usually happens on such occasions, temperature was higher at inland than at sea coast stations. This is now the sixth month where temperatures have been uninterruptedly above the average, in each case, except July, very considerably so, these six months being 2°·5 above their average. Such a continuous period of high temperature for these months has only been recorded in Scotland in 1868 and 1779. The absolute maximum temperature 87°·0 occurred at Smeaton on the 15th ; and the absolute minimum 30°·0 at Stobo on the 28th.

The rainfall was the average on a mean of all the stations, and the number of days on which it fell, only one day above the average; but its distribution over the country was extremely irregular. It was under the average nearly everywhere from the Grampians to the Cheviots; the Firth of Clyde and districts adjacent, and large portion of the eastern division of the counties of Inverness, Ross, Caithness, and in Orkney. The amounts were only about half the usual fall for August, in the east of Berwickshire and Aberdeenshire. Elsewhere the rainfall was above the average, the greater percentages of excess being 86 at Stornoway, 73 at Bressay, and 69 at Gordon Castle. Thunder and heavy thunder showers were of repeated occurrence during the month, which however occasioned but little damage to the grain crops. It deserves to be put on record, that the grain crops over large breadths of the country were cut, and secured in the stackyard by the end of this month in excellent condition.

Barometric pressure, which was 0·057 inch above the average was so distributed that it was relatively lower than usual at western and northern, as compared with eastern and southern stations, resulting in a slight excess of westerly and deficiency of north-easterly winds. Calms and light winds to some extent prevailed. A remarkable storm, with low barometer for the season, occurred from the 20th to the 22nd, beginning in the south-west late in the evening of the 20th, and in the north of the Lewis in the evening of the 21st; and terminating in the north-east in the forenoon of the 22nd. It was most severely felt in the southern half of Scotland, doing great damage to the shipping in Oban, whilst over extensive districts it did not occur at all.

Cloud was the average, sunshine slightly above it; the Black Bulb on grass, 3°·4, and the Black Bulb in Sun 10°·2 above the average, thus pointing to unusually strong insolation while it lasted.

Aurora is reported from two stations.

SEPTEMBER 1893 was marked by a barometric pressure considerably under the the average, and a monthly range considerably above it. But as regards pressure, the chief point is that it was decidedly higher at western than at eastern stations, which resulted in a prevalence of north-westerly winds five days above the average, and a deficiency of southerly winds, under which temperature fell 1°·0 below the average.

The deficiency of temperature was greatest in the eastern side of the country, where it was generally from 1°·5 to 2°·0 under the average; but at stations in the extreme west, temperature was nearly the average. Temperature fell below freezing at many places on the 11th, and 21st, 22nd, and 23rd, accompanied in various districts with heavy showers of snow. On the other hand the 14th was unusually warm for the season, temperature rising at Ladylaw to 69°·0, and on the following night not falling below 56°·3, thus giving a mean for the day of 62°·6. The absolute maximum for the month was 77°·0 at Stobo on the 4th, and the minimum 23°·0 at Stobo on the 11th.

The Rainfall was 0·22 inch under the average, but its distribution over the country was most unequal, being above the average to the north of the Grampians, but under it to the south of that range of mountains, the excess above the average, in percentages, was 128 at Scourie; 125 at Glencarron, and 100 at Thurso and Gordon Castle. The rains which fell chiefly with the north-westerly winds do not appear to have crossed the Grampians, and accordingly the following show in percentages, the greatest deficiencies from the averages of the month, 74 at Drumlanrig; 67 at Ochtertyre, Dollar, and Marchmont; 63 at Perth, Stobo, Broomlands, and Ladylaw; and over large districts scarcely half the average rainfall was collected. The largest rainfall 15·37 inches is reported from Glencarron, and the lowest 0·70 inch from Dalkeith. At Glencarron 3·59 inches fell on the 12th, and 2·91 inches at Fort-William.

Gales and storms are reported from many places from the 12th to the 14th, 19th to the 23rd, and 28th and 29th.

Thunder or Lightning occurred at 15 stations, the largest number at any place being 4 at Cargen. Auroras are reported only from Boyndie and North Unst, these occurring on the 5th, 8th, 10th, and 30th.

South of the Grampians, the weather up to the 20th was dry and fine, under which the grain crops were secured in prime condition, but after the 20th it continued wet till the end of the month. North of the Grampians, the weather was generally wet throughout the month, and crops in the later districts suffered much.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

IN compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

“If at any time the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, &c., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance.”

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

I. NORTHERN DIVISION.

1. SHETLAND.

5 (2). BURRA AND QUAREF. — Of the four deaths registered, three occurred between 7th and 9th September. They were of persons aged respectively 68, 69, 82, and 82 years.

3. CAITHNESS.

36. DUNNET. — Of the five persons who died during the quarter, one was aged 82, and one 95 years.

43. WICK. — There are about 40 cases of Typhoid Fever in the Police Burgh of Polteneytown, generally supposed to be caused by bad sanitary arrangements, and the polluted state of drinking water. The water comes a distance of about two miles in an open ditch, which in its course passes close to several inhabited buildings and farm dung heaps.

4. SUTHERLAND.

53. LAIRG. — One of the four deaths registered, that of the child of a travelling musician, was certified to have been caused by Cholera or Choleraic Diarrhoea.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

58 (1). APPLECROSS. — Measles very prevalent, and two of the five deaths resulted therefrom.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

91. ARDERSIER.—Of the five deaths in July, three resulted from accident, two of these being from drowning, and the other from fall from a scaffold.

95. DAVIOT AND DUNLIGHTY.—One of the four deaths recorded was accidental.

97 (3). NORTH MORAR.—Hooping-Cough prevalent.

107 (1). URQUHART.—A mild case of Scarlatina occurred, introduced by visitors from Ireland.

107 (2). GLENMORISTON. — There occurred during the quarter one or two cases of Scarlatina of a mild type.

Insular.

111 (1). NORTH HARRIS.—A case of supposed Typhus Fever is in the district at present.

119. STRATH.—Death above average, but no epidemic.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

8. ELGIN (OR MORAY).

136. NEW SPYNIE. — The three illegitimate births took place in the Poorhouse.

137. FORRES.—Of the 30 deaths registered, ten were of children under five years of age, and nine of persons whose ages ranged from 64 to 89 years respectively.

9. BANFF.

149*a*. BOYNDIE.—One of the deaths was caused by Diphtheria; and several cases of Typhoid Fever occurred in the village of Whitehills.

150. CULLEN.—Of the six deaths registered in September, two were caused by accidents.

153 (2). PORTSOY.—Deaths below the average. Three of those registered were of persons aged 73, 79, and 95 years respectively, and the remaining four were of children under two years of age.

157 (2). GLENLIVAT.—Several cases of Typhoid Fever of a mild type have occurred among children, but none fatal.

10. ABERDEEN.

197. FYVIE.—Three of the deaths in August resulted from Diphtheria, which was to some extent epidemic at the time.

200. GLENBUCKET.—Two of the three deaths registered were caused by Typhus Fever.

232 (1). PETERHEAD.—The heavy death rate is due to an epidemic of Measles and Hooping-Cough during the fishing season.

234. PREMAY.—Of the six deaths registered, one was that of an infant, and the remaining five were of persons aged respectively 63, 74, 77, 80, and 83 years.

243. TARVES.—Of the seven deaths registered in July, one was of a male who was aged 76 years, and four of females aged respectively 66, 75, 84, and 86 years. One was of a boy 13 years of age, who was killed by the kick of a horse. One of the two deaths in September was that of a man from Aberdeen, who committed Suicide.

A case of Scarlet Fever occurred, and Hooping-Cough has been prevalent in some parts of the parish, but of a mild type.

247. TURRIFF. — Deaths in July above the average in consequence of the epidemic of Measles. It had abated before August.

11. KINCARDINE.

267. ST CYRUS.—Of the three deaths registered during the quarter, one was of a person aged 81, and another of a person aged 87 years.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

269. ABERLEMNO.—One of the four deaths was caused by Measles.

273. AUCHTERHOUSE. — Hooping-Cough prevalent, and one death therefrom.

315. OATHLAW. — The two deaths, both of children, one aged two years, and the other 20 months, were certified to have been caused by Diphtheria.

321. TANNADICE.—One of the two deaths in September was that of a boy 9 years of age, who was killed by a large block of stone falling upon him.

13. PERTH.

328*a*. ALYTH.—Deaths above the average. The ages of eight of the persons who died ranged from 68 to 95 years.

330. AUCHTERGAVEN. — Of the six persons whose deaths were recorded, one was aged 86 years, and two were bordering on 80. The District has been remarkably free from epidemics for some time.

334. BLAIR-ATHOL.—The last death registered was that of a woman aged 90 years.

340. COLLACE.—Scarlet Fever of a mild type appeared in Collace village, and one death resulted therefrom, that of a male aged 42 years. Public school closed.

362. KILMADOCK.—An epidemic of Measles, which caused two deaths, has now disappeared.

380. METHVEN.—‘Shock caused by Bee Stings’ was the cause of one of the deaths registered during the quarter.

383. MONZIEVAIRD AND STROWAN. — Of the four deaths registered during the quarter, three were of persons aged 82, 79, and 72 years respectively. The remaining death was caused by drowning in the River Earn.

387. PERTH.—The deaths of two widows were recorded at the respective ages of 96 and 97 years. A death from Typhus Fever occurred during August. The disease had been contracted in the Country. Infantile Diarrhoea prevalent.

14. FIFE.

403. ANSTRUTHER WESTER.—Health of district unexceptionable up to September, when a few cases of Typhoid Fever were reported.

426. DYSART. — Several of the deaths were caused by Diarrhoea.

427. ELIE.—Of the seven deaths registered, four were of visitors, two of the four being of infants.

429. FERRY-PORT-ON-CRAIG.—Of the 19 deaths recorded, six were of children from Epidemic Diarrhoea, and one was caused by drowning, in consequence of the foundering of a boat in the River Tay.

432. INVERKEITHING.—Four cases of death by drowning were recorded.

434. KENNOWAY.—Of the seven deaths recorded, six were of persons aged respectively 69, 70, 74, 74, 84, and 84 years.

452. PITTENWEEN.—Of the seven deaths registered, three were attributed to Typhoid Fever, and one was the result of accidental drowning. A female died at the age of 92 years.

V. WEST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

18. DUMBARTON.

495. CUMBERNAULD.—The death of a boy six years of age was certified to have been caused by Hydrophobia.

497. KILMARNOCK.—Four cases of Typhoid Fever occurred, but none of them fatal. One death was caused by accidental drowning. A female attained the age of 93 years.

500. NEW KILPATRICK.—Two of the deaths were caused by drowning, and two by other accidents.

19. ARGYLL.

Mainland.

518. KILFINAN.—An epidemic of Measles during June and July, and one death therefrom.

527 (2). KILMORICH.—The only death registered was that of a woman 88 years of age.

534 (2). STRACHUR.—Of the two deaths registered, both of males, one was aged 94 years, and the other one hour.

20. BUTE.

553 (2). KILBRIDE.—One of the three deaths recorded in September was caused by Diphtheria. Summer visitors from Kirkintilloch, and also from Kilmarnock, brought Typhoid Fever to the district, but it has not spread, neither has there been any of the cases fatal.

VI. SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

22. AYR.

578. AYR.—Of the 161 persons whose deaths were registered during the quarter, one was above 90 years of age, seven above 80, 14 above 70, and 14 were under one year. Diarrhoea was the cause of 13 deaths, and Measles of six. One death was caused by accidental drowning, and one was suicidal.

582 (2). BARRHILL.—Deaths below the average, only one in each of the last two quarters. The unusually fine summer, no doubt, accounts for this.

595. IRVINE.—Out of a total of 25 deaths registered in September, only two were males, one aged three months, and the other 13. Of the 23 females, nine were of ages ranging from 66 to 89 years respectively.

597. KILMARNOCK.—Enteric Fever and Diarrhoea prevalent in various parts of the town, and several of the cases proved fatal.

607. MUIRKIRK.—Four of the deaths were caused by Scarlet Fever.

23. LANARK.

625 (3). BELLSHILL.—Measles appeared in an epidemic form in September, and proved fatal in some cases.

626. CALDERHEAD.—Enteric Fever prevalent, and in consequence the death-rate is above the average.

643. EAST KILBRIDE.—Of the eight deaths in August, five were of strangers who came to the parish in search of health.

647. HAMILTON.—Of the 157 deaths registered during the quarter, eight were caused by Diphtheria, six by Enteric Fever, one by Typhoid Fever, four by Scarlet Fever, and two by Choleraic Diarrhoea. It is worthy of note, however, that the case of Typhoid and four of the Enteric cases were sent in to the Hamilton Hospital from other parishes by the County Council authority.

VII. SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

25. EDINBURGH.

700. TEMPLE.—Measles prevalent. Of the three deaths recorded, two were from that cause, the other was caused by Diphtheria. All were of children under three years of age.

27. BERWICK.

730. CHIRNSIDE.—Health of parish very good. The four persons whose deaths were registered were aged respectively 83, 83, 73, and 61 years.

742. GORDON.—Of the nine deaths registered during the quarter, six were due to Choleraic Diarrhoea, which was prevalent in the village of Gordon during the latter part of July and the whole of August. Five of the six were of infants.

VIII. SOUTHERN DIVISION.

31. DUMFRIES.

820. DRYFESDALE.—The deaths of 16 persons were recorded during the quarter, and of these five were above 70 years of age, one being aged 90 years.

840. LOCHMABEN.—The average for the corresponding quarter of the preceding ten years has been Births, 22·5, Marriages, 3·1, and Deaths, 13·5; while for the past quarter there have been Births, 12, Marriages, 3, and Deaths, 11. It deserves to be noted that there are no illegitimate births, a gratifying state of matters which has not occurred in the corresponding quarter since 1871.

842. MOFFAT.—One of the 15 deaths resulted from an accident on the railway.

845. PENPONT. — Three cases of Diphtheria have occurred, of which two proved fatal.

32. KIRKCUDBRIGHT.

862. CORSOCK BRIDGE.—The only death recorded was that of a man 86 years of age.

33. WIGTOWN.

885. GLASSERTON.—Of the three deaths for the quarter, one resulted from Fracture of the Spine.

886. INCH.—Only two entries made in the Death Register, one of a man aged 70, and the other of a man aged 86 years.

* The actual number of Districts is 1056—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 5 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.

BIRTHS.

30,599 Births were registered during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 297 per ten thousand of estimated population, or 2·97 per cent.

The Annual Birth-rate in the Principal Town Districts was 313 for every ten thousand persons; in the Large Town Districts, 308; in the Small Town Districts, 307; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 261; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 224.

For every ten thousand persons in Perth, the annual Birth-rate was 264; in Edinburgh 273; in Dundee, 287; in Greenock, 308; in Leith, 315; in Aberdeen 317; in Paisley, 322; and in Glasgow, 330.

Of the 30,599 Births, 2326, or 7·6 per cent. were illegitimate. In the Insular-Rural Districts, 4·1 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate; in the Large Town Districts, 6·2; in the Principal Town Districts, 7·1; in the Small Town Districts, 7·6; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 10·0 per cent.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. Table I. shows that the rate of illegitimacy was highest in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions; the rate in the former being 12·9, and in the latter 12·1 per cent. Table II. shows that in ten of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was 10 per cent., and over, the highest point reached being in Kirkcudbright where it was 15·7 per cent.

Of the 30,599 Births, 15,599 were of males, and 15,000 of females, being in the proportion of 104 males for every 100 females. 10,756 Births were registered during October, being at the rate of 347 daily; 9972 during November, or 332 daily; and 9871 during December, or 318 daily.

In the Principal Town Districts the Death-rate for every ten thousand of estimated population was 216 ; in the Large Town Districts, 202 ; in the Small Town Districts 189 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 177 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 162.

The Death-rate in Perth, for every ten thousand persons was 258 ; in Paisley 236 ; in Glasgow, and in Edinburgh, 220 ; in Greenock, 211 ; in Leith, 209 ; in Dundee, 206 ; and in Aberdeen, 193.

Of the 20,406 Deaths, 10,011 were of males, and 10,395 of females. 5937 Deaths were registered during October, or 192 daily ; 7222 during November, or 241 daily ; and 7247 during December, or 234 daily.

MARRIAGES.

7141 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 69 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 0·69 per cent. This rate is 0·02 per cent. below the average for the quarter during the preceding ten years.

In the Principal Town Districts, Marriages occurred at the rate of 75 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; in the Small Town Districts, the rate was 70 ; in the Large Town Districts, 65 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 63 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 47.

Marriages occurred in Glasgow, and in Edinburgh, at the rate of 81 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; Perth, 77 ; Leith, 75 ; Aberdeen, 74 ; Greenock, 68 ; Dundee, 65 ; and Paisley, 60.

1869 Marriages were registered during October, being at the rate of 60 daily ; 1859 during November, or 62 daily ; and 3413 during December, or 110 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The number of Births for the quarter was 30,599, and of Deaths 20,406, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes consequent on emigration or immigration, being 10,193. No reliable estimate of immigrants can be formed ; but in regard to emigrants, it is found from the Returns furnished by the Board of Trade that the number of these amounted to 40,227 during the quarter, of whom 21,664 were English, 3166 Scottish, 5268 Irish, and 8855 Foreigners, while of 1274 the nationality was not distinguished, but 104 of them may be assumed to be Scottish. If then 3166 + 104, the number of Scottish emigrants be deducted from the number representing the excess of Births over Deaths, 6923 remains as the probable increase of the population for the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the population of Scotland, being resident in these towns, diseases prevailing in them may be assumed to prevail also to a corresponding extent throughout the country generally.

From all causes there occurred 2342 Deaths in October, 2844 in November, and 2827 in December; and of these, 93 in October, 91 in November, and 114 in December, were from ill-defined or unspecified causes.

Miasmatic Diseases caused 235 deaths in October, or 1·89 per thousand of the estimated population; 296 in November, or 2·46 per thousand; and 357 in December, or 2·87 per thousand.

One death in November and 9 in December were attributed to Small-Pox, 9 of them having occurred in Leith and 1 in Aberdeen.

Measles caused 1 death in October, 7 in November, and 4 in December. Scarlet Fever caused 41 deaths, or 0·33 per thousand in October, 39 or 0·32 per thousand in November, and 39 or 0·31 per thousand in December. To Hooping-Cough were ascribed 66 deaths, or 0·53 per thousand in October; 103 or 0·86 in November; and 132 or 1·06 in December. Diphtheria was the cause of 44 deaths or 0·35 per thousand in October; 49 or 0·41 in November; and 48, or 0·39 in December. To Fevers were attributed 49 deaths in October, or 0·39 per thousand; 26 in November, or 0·22 per thousand; and 24 in December, or 0·19 per thousand.

Diarrhœa and Dysentery were stated to have caused 75 deaths in October, or 0·60 per thousand of estimated population; 41 in November, or 0·34; and 30 in December, or 0·24.

From Venereal Diseases there resulted 8 deaths in October, 4 in November, and 15 in December.

Intemperance was the cause of 7 deaths in October, of 15 in November, and of 14 in December.

To Constitutional Diseases were ascribed 405 deaths in October, 456 in November, and 431 in December; and of these 101 in October, 92 in November, and 92 in December, were from Cancer; and 205 or 1·65 per thousand of estimated population in October; 251, or 2·08 per thousand in November; and 226 or 1·82 per thousand in December were from Phthisis.

Developmental Diseases were the cause of 169 deaths in October, 199 in November, and 162 in December.

Diseases of the Nervous System caused 274 deaths in October, 309 in November, and 290 in December.

To Diseases of the Respiratory System were ascribed 464 deaths in October, 799 in November, and 742 in December; and of these, 28 in October, 15 in November, and 22 in December, were from Croup; 198 in October, 415 in November, and 367 in December from Bronchitis; and 191 in October, 273 in November, and 279 in December from Pneumonia.

Diseases of the Digestive System caused 181 deaths in October, 159 in November, and 179 in December.

Diseases of the Urinary System were the cause of 61 deaths in October, of 82 in November, and of 64 in December.

Parturition, or conditions in connection therewith, including Puerperal Fever caused 24 deaths in October, 25 in November, and 28 in December.

To Violent Causes were attributed 83 deaths in October, 91 in November, and 102 in December.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Meteorological Returns which appear in the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports :—

October was characterised by a barometric pressure and range under the average, a marked predominance of westerly and deficiency of easterly wind, and a mean temperature fully a degree above the average.

November was characterised by a marked predominance of northerly winds, a temperature fully a degree under the average, and a rainfall decidedly under the average except at Aberdeen where it exceeded it.

December was marked by a very unsteady barometer, an unusual predominance of W. and S.W. winds blowing with a force considerably above the average, a very high temperature, and an excess of four rainy days.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 29·705 inches in October, 29·976 in November, and 29·710 in December.

The mean temperature for the quarter was $42^{\circ}\cdot3$, being $0^{\circ}\cdot9$ above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the previous ten years. The mean temperature during October was $47^{\circ}\cdot0$, during November $39^{\circ}\cdot5$, and during December $40^{\circ}\cdot5$. The absolute highest temperature was $66^{\circ}\cdot9$ during October, $59^{\circ}\cdot4$ during November, and $62^{\circ}\cdot2$ during December; the absolute lowest being $16^{\circ}\cdot0$ in October $13^{\circ}\cdot0$ in November, and $12^{\circ}\cdot0$ in December. Rain fell on 19 days in October, on 16 in November, and on 21 in December; the mean depth being 4.51 inches in October, 3.66 in November, and 4.67 in December. Winds with an easterly direction blew on 3 days in October, on 8 in November, and on 3 in December. Winds with a westerly point blew on 20 days in October, on 13 in November, and on 22 in December. Northerly winds blew on 6, days in October, on 14 in November, and on 4 in December. Southerly winds blew on 11 days in October, on 5 in November, and on 15 in December.

Note—The population of most of the Registration Counties differs slightly from that of the Civil Counties, in consequence of Parishes extending to more than one County being held by the Registration Act to be within the County in which the Parish Church happens to be situated. For the particular constitution of each Registration District see Report on Census of Scotland for 1891, Vol. I., page 289, et seq.

NOTES ON THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 31st DECEMBER 1893.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 55 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to have been equally well observed, and to represent the whole country :—

COLLECTED RETURNS FOR ALL THE ACCEPTED STATIONS OF THE SCOTTISH METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY, HAVING A MEAN LATITUDE = $56^{\circ} 30' N.$; MEAN LONGITUDE = $3^{\circ} 39' W.$; AND MEAN ELEVATION = 255 Feet.

 Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·3 ; less by 1·8.

Hence the month of OCTOBER 1893, has been marked by a low, but normally steady barometer ; a mean temperature slightly above the average, and daily range considerably larger than usual ; a rainfall 13 per cent. above the average, and two days greater frequency than usual ; sunshine and cloud about the average ; and a marked deficiency of easterly, and excess of southerly winds.

The mean barometric pressure diminished as usual, from south to north, but at a much more rapid rate. In the latitude of Aberdeen, pressure was equal from east to west ; north of this it was greater in the east, but to the south of it greater in the west.

The temperature of the days, was 1°·5 above the average, but of the nights, 0°·3 below it. The mean temperature was 0°·6 above the average, but it was unequally distributed over the country. To the south of the Grampians it was fully a degree above the average, whilst in the north-west of Scotland, and in the north-east of Aberdeenshire, it was half a degree below it. At Stations near the Solway, it was the average of October. The absolutely highest temperature was 66°·9 at Eyemouth on the 15th ; and the lowest 16°·0 at Stobo on the 31st.

The mean rainfall was 0·54 inch above the average, but the amounts were very unequally distributed over the different districts. Except in the counties of Forfar and Edinburgh, the rainfall was under the average in eastern districts from the Spey to the Tweed, only half the average being collected over several wide districts. It was also, though slightly, under the average in Dumfriesshire and Galloway. In all other parts of Scotland the rainfall was in excess, generally from a half more to double the average being recorded. The amount at Glencarron was 14·85 inches ; at Fort William 12·75 inches ; and on the top of Ben Nevis 22·84 inches ; but on the other hand, the amounts were only 1·14 inch at Milne Graden ; 1·52 inch at Duns Castle ; and 1·55 inch at Marchmont.

Thunder or lightning occurred at 18 stations, on 3 days each at Boyndie, Montrose, Arbroath, Pinmore, Ladylaw, Glenlee, and Cally. Auroras are reported from 7 Stations, on 3 nights at Deerness.

In the month of November 1893, the barometric pressure was considerably above the average, and the monthly range was also unusually large ; temperature was under the average ; the rainfall about the average both as regards the mean amount and the number of days on which it fell ; and there was a most unusual prevalence of northerly, and deficiency of southerly winds. The month will be long remembered for the great storm which swept over the country from the 17th to the 19th, the number of wrecks by sea, and destruction of forests by land being nearly unprecedented.

Barometric pressure was high, diminishing on advancing northwards, but at a more rapid rate than usual. The principal feature of the pressure however consisted in being much higher at western as compared with eastern Stations in the same latitudes, and from this distribution the great prevalence of northerly winds was the necessary consequence, bringing in their train a reduced temperature.

On the mean of all the Stations, temperature was about a degree under the average, the deficiency north of the Caledonian Canal being about 3°·0, but on the other hand, it was nearly the average at most situations in the south. The absolute highest temperature was 59°·4 at Drumlanrig on 28th ; and the lowest 13°·0 also at Drumlanrig on the 5th.

The mean rainfall was 0·16 inch under the average, but its distribution was very unequal. Falling as it mostly did with northerly winds, it followed, just as in September last, that it was above the average north of the Grampians, and under it to the south of this range of mountains. At Glencarron the amount was 15·38 inches, and at Scourie 9·51 inches. The fall at Scourie was 102 per cent. above its mean, but this was exceeded in Shetland with 115, and at Thurso with 202 per cent. of excess. On the other hand the fall at Perth was only 0·95 inch, and at Dundee 1·25 inch, these amounts being 71 and 52 per cent. under their respective averages. The rainfall of September and November last show in an impressive manner how the southern half of Scotland is protected from heavy rains when the rain is brought over Scotland by northerly winds.

Wind pressure was 0·66 lb. above the average, the excess being occasioned by the gales and storms of the 1st, 5th, 22nd, 23rd, but particularly by the great storm of the 17th-19th referred to above.

Thunder or lightning is reported from 8 Stations, one case being reported at each Station; and Auroras at 6 Stations, also one case at each Station.

In the month of December 1893, barometric pressure was decidedly under the average, with a monthly range exceptionally large, being indeed, during the last 38 years, only exceeded in the Decembers of 1869 and 1886; mean temperature was higher than any recorded since 1873; rainfall excessive both in amount and the number of days on which it fell; and an almost unprecedented deficiency of N., N.E., E., and S.E., and excess of S.W. and W. winds.

Barometric pressure was nearly a tenth of an inch below the average of all the Stations, and it fell from north to south but at a rate almost unprecedentedly rapid. Thus while the average rate of fall from the Solway to North Unst is 0·170 inch, in December last it was 0·386 inch or more than double the usual fall; and as the difference between eastern and western Stations was normal, that is greater in the east than west, it followed that W.S.W. acquired a predominance greater than has occurred since December 1873.

The mean temperature was 2°·7 above the average, the excess being from 3°·0 to 4°·0 in inland situations generally, but only about a degree at places in the north west and north near the sea. This is the usual mode of the distribution of differences of temperature in the winter months when there is a great predominance of W.S.W. winds. The absolute highest shade temperature was 62°·2 at Fort Augustus on the 16th, and the minimum 12°·0 at Drumlanrig on the 2nd.

The mean rainfall was 18 per cent. above the average. It was above the average at all western Stations, and at those eastern Stations situated at a considerable distance from the sea, the amount of excess increasing from south to north. At Fort Augustus the per cent. of excess was 88, at Fort William 107, at Sumburgh Head 153, and at Bressay Sound, Lerwick 193. The fall was 16·86 inches at Fort William; 15·75 inches at Glencarron; and 11·28 inches at Roshven; whilst at Forres the fall was only 1·20 inch.

Wind pressure was 1·07 lb. above the average, due to the storms which were so frequent during the month.

Thunder or lightning occurred at 14 Stations, being recorded on 3 days at North Unst, Deerness, Fort William, Roshven, Rotheray, and Cally. Auroras are reported only from North Unst and Roshven, with one case each.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

IN compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

“If at any time the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, &c., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance.”

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

I. NORTHERN DIVISION.

1. SHETLAND.

5 (2). BURRA AND QUARFF.—Of the seven deaths registered, five are of children under one year. One was caused by Scarlatina.

8. NORTHMAVINE.—Births and deaths unprecedentedly low during 1893. The annual birth-rate is 14 per thousand, and the death-rate 8·8.

11. UNST.—Hooping-Cough prevalent, but none of the cases fatal. The schools have been closed.

2. ORKNEY.

14. DEERNES.—There is a remarkable decrease in the number of births for 1893, as compared with those registered in 1892. One of the causes for this is emigration. No marriages were registered in 1893, although two persons belonging to Deerness were married and registered in Kirkwall.

16. EVIE AND RENDALL.—Of the nine deaths registered, six were caused by drowning.

19. HOLM AND PAPLAY.—A few mild cases of Scarlatina occurred in one family, but the disease did not spread.

4. SUTHERLAND.

45. CLYNE.—Two deaths were caused by Diphtheria, those of a father and son; and there are a number of cases of Influenza. The principal school has been closed for a fortnight.

47. DORNOCH.—Deaths below the average. Of the ten registered, three were of persons over 60 years of age, three over 70, and four over 80 years.

53. LAIRG.—Several cases of Scarlatina of a mild type occurred among children, but none of them fatal.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

95. DAVIOT AND DUNLIGHTY.—Deaths more numerous than usual. Of the five registered, two are of infants, and a third, that of a man who died through excessive drinking and exposure.

97 (2). KNOYDART.—Influenza prevalent, but of a mild type, and none of the cases fatal. A case of Scarlet Fever is reported by the medical officer, but the patient, a young lad of 17, is supposed to be out of danger, and every precaution is taken to check the disease.

97 (3). NORTH MORAR.—Bad colds and Influenza prevalent.

99 (2). LOCHABER.—Deaths above the average owing to the prevalence of Influenza during November and December.

103. KIRKHILL.—One of the five deaths recorded was from accidental drowning.

Insular.

110 (1). DUIRINISH.—Deaths above the average in consequence of the prevalence of Scarlatina and Influenza.

112 (2). STENSCHOLL.—Four of the deaths recorded in November were from drowning, in consequence of the wreck of a boat belonging to Lochinver.

114. PORTREE.—Scarlatina prevalent.

117 (1). NORTH SNIZORT.—Influenza prevalent, but in no case fatal.

117 (2). SOUTH SNIZORT.—Of the six deaths registered, four were of persons aged respectively 67, 78, 79, and 98 years, all females. December was unusually wet and stormy, but the general health was good, and there were no deaths.

119. STRATH.—One death was caused by drowning during the gale of 17th November. Of the nine deaths registered, three were of persons aged respectively 89, 93, and 94 years.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

7. NAIRN.

121. AULDEARN.—The three deaths in November were caused by drowning in consequence of a shipwreck during the storm on night of 17th.

8. ELGIN (OR MORAY).

133. DYKE.—Influenza very prevalent, and two of the five deaths resulted therefrom. Several cases of Scarlet Fever and one of Diphtheria occurred among children, but none fatal.

139. KNOCKANDO.—The ages of the four persons whose deaths were registered during the quarter, were respectively 74, 77, 77, and 80 years.

9. BANFF.

146. ALVAH.—Death-rate above the average, principally in consequence of the prevalence of Influenza, and Bronchitis. The eight deaths registered are those of elderly people, the average age being 76 years.

152. ENZIE.—Of the 30 deaths recorded during the year, 16 occurred during the last quarter, and of these nine (four males and five females) have an average age of 74 years, two males being aged 89 and 93 years respectively.

153 (2). PORTSOY.—Of the nine deaths recorded, six were of persons over 71 years of age, and two of children under two months.

10. ABERDEEN.

172. AUCHINDOIR.—The three deaths registered (all in October) were of persons aged respectively 19, 77, and 77 years. That of the person aged 19 was caused by gunshot (suicidal).

174. BELHELVE.—Of the nine deaths registered, three were caused by Influenza.

182. COULL.—The two marriages in this return are the total for the year. It is now becoming common to celebrate the marriages in hotels in Aberdeen. This has the effect of lowering the number recorded in country registers.

201. GLENMUCK, TULLICH, AND GLENGAIRN.—Measles very prevalent, but no case fatal. One death from Diphtheria. Of the ten deaths recorded, one was of a person aged 92 years.

211. KINNELLAR.—The four deaths for the quarter all occurred during December, and were attributed to diseases of the Respiratory Organs.

224. MONYMUSK.—Influenza and bad colds prevalent during December.

243. TARVES.—Of the 35 deaths registered during the year, six were of children under six months old, six of persons between 60 and 70 years, five between 70 and 80, and five were over 80. Influenza has been very prevalent, and three of the deaths were due to its after effects.

247. TURRIFF.—Influenza prevalent. Hooping-Cough spreading.

249b. YTHAN WELLS.—Cases of Diphtheria occurred during September and October.

11. KINCARDINE.

251 (2). PORTLETHEN.—Measles prevalent, and fatal in two cases. Owing to epidemic the public school has been closed. One of the deaths in December was caused by suicidal hanging.

253. BENHOLM.—Deaths above the average. Measles and Influenza prevalent, the former causing four deaths.

259. FORDOUN.—Of the five deaths registered, four were of persons aged respectively 65, 70, 75, and 93 years.

263. LAURENCEKIRK.—Influenza prevalent, one case fatal. The district is at present in an unhealthy state; the atmosphere has been very moist for some weeks past.

264. MARYCULTER.—Several cases of Influenza occurred during the quarter, and one proved fatal.

267. ST CYRUS.—Measles prevalent during November and December, but of a mild type.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

304. LOGIE-PERT.—Influenza, of a milder type than that of the last epidemic, has been prevalent.

305. LUNAN.—One of the two deaths resulted from an accident.

307 (1). MAINS (LANDWARD). — Births considerably above the average, and probably to be accounted for by a number of new tenements being built and occupied. Of the seven deaths, five were of persons who had reached the ages of 74, 75, 79, 81, and 95 years.

321. TANNADICE.—One of the deaths is that of a man aged 99 years. He only wanted eight days to complete his 100th year.

13. PERTH.

330. AUCHTERGAVEN.—Influenza in a mild form is common, and one death is ascribed to that cause.

331. BALQUHIDDER.—The three persons who died during the quarter, were aged respectively 65, 80, and 86 years.

334. BLAIR-ATHOL.—Of the seven deaths, two resulted from Scarlet Fever, both of children under two years of age.

335. BLAIRGOWRIE.—Measles prevalent.

336. CALLANDER.—Influenza and colds have told severely on the aged.

339. CLUNIE.—Six deaths occurred during the year. Of these, one was of a girl, 5 years of age, and the others, of persons 60, 69, 71, 75, and 75 years respectively.

340. COLLACE.—Influenza prevalent, but no case fatal. Two cases of Typhoid Fever occurred, and the patients were removed to Perth Hospital.

387. PERTH.—Mortality above the average. Hooping-Cough and Scarlet Fever being prevalent among children. The oldest person, whose death was registered during the quarter, was aged 96 years.

14. FIFE.

401. ABERDOUR.—Death-rate above the average, but this cannot be specially accounted for. There has been an epidemic of Scarlet Fever and Measles, but only one case fatal. One death resulted from an accident.

420. CUPAR.—Of the 49 deaths registered, nine occurred in the Fife and Kinross Asylum.

427. ELIE.—The three deaths registered during the quarter, were of persons aged 81, 87, and 89 years respectively.

429. FERRY-PORT-ON-CRAIG.—Deaths for the year, above the average,—8 were caused by accidental drowning, and five of them were of persons who did not belong to the parish. One of the deaths for the quarter, resulted from an accident on the railway, and one by drowning. Three females were aged 77, 86, and 88 years respectively.

439. KINGHORN.—One of the deaths was, apparently, that of a seaman, whose body was found in the Firth near Inchkeith, and not identified.

443. LARGO.—Scarlet Fever caused four deaths amongst children during November and December.

452. PITTENWEEM.—The number of deaths is the highest recorded in any quarter since 1881, and is due to the prevalence of Typhoid and Scarlet Fever, and a general outbreak of Measles. The public schools were closed all the month of October.

456. SCOONIE.—Births and Deaths both above the average for the quarter. In the case of the Births, this is due, to a great extent, to the increase of population; and in that of the Deaths, to the results of a Measles epidemic which proved fatal in 7 cases.

457. STRATHMIGLO.—Deaths above the average, due to Colds and Influenza among elderly people.

458b. TULLIALLAN.—Of the 15 deaths registered, three were of persons aged 81, 87, and 89 years respectively. Two deaths were caused by Diphtheria.

15. KINROSS.

460. CLEISH.—The three deaths were of persons aged, respectively, 77, 79, and 86 years.

V. WEST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

17. STIRLING.

471. BALDERNOCK.—One of the two deaths registered, was of a person aged 98 years and nine months.

473. BOTHKENNAR.—Influenza and Hooping-Cough prevalent during the latter half of the quarter.

457. CAMPSIE.—Of the 37 deaths registered, 21 were of persons over 60 years of age, the eldest being aged 87 years. One person died from inhaling Carbonic Acid gas, while lying asleep beside a limekiln.

484. KIPPEN.—Deaths above the average in consequence of an epidemic of Typhoid Fever, which has been in the village of Kippen for the last two months. Three of the deaths in December were from that cause.

18. DUMBARTON.

497. KILMARNOCK.—Deaths above the average. Influenza very prevalent, but only one death therefrom.

19. ARGYLL.

Mainland.

527 (2). KILMORICH.—Only one death recorded for the quarter—that of a man aged 83 years. The total number of deaths for the year was six—all of old people, the average age being 81 years.

20. BUTE.

558. ROTHESAY.—Influenza of a mild type very prevalent, and several deaths in consequence. Of the 47 registered, four were of persons between 60 and 70 years of age, 13 between 70 and 80 years, five between 80 and 90, and one over 90 years.

VI. SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

21. RENFREW.

566. INCHINNAN.—One of the deaths registered during the quarter, was of a person aged 94 years. One death was certified to have been caused by Hydrophobia.

22. AYR.

576 (1). OLD ARDROSSAN.—Two of the deaths in October occurred in the Hospital, and were from Enteric Fever.

578. AYR.—One death resulted from Typhoid Fever, one from Diphtheria, two from Scarlet Fever, and four from Influenza. An accidental fire in a dwelling-house resulted in two children being burned to death.

597. KILMARNOCK.—The deaths in October and November are greatly above the average, especially in November, when there was an epidemic of Enteric Fever. The deaths during the year (682) are the highest since 1875, when they amounted to 770.

23. LANARK.

641. DOUGLAS.—Influenza prevailed to a considerable extent during October and November. It has now greatly abated, but five cases proved fatal. Of the 13 deaths registered during the quarter six were of persons over 70 years of age.

643. EAST KILBRIDE.—The deaths in November and December were largely above the average. Six were caused by Hooping-Cough.

647. HAMILTON.—A most offensive smell prevailed for weeks over the town from burning blaes at two collieries, which may have affected the general health. Since the nuisance was mitigated, the death-rate has gone down. The town surveyor has made up a list of 418 new houses erected since Census of 1891, by which it is computed, that an increase of 2090 has been made to the population.

648. LANARK.—Influenza prevalent, and severe on aged persons.

660. WISTON AND ROBERTON.—One of the two deaths was that of a woman in her 94th year.

VII. SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

25. EDINBURGH.

695. NEWBATTLE.—The deaths for the quarter are about the average; but, for the whole year, the number is the largest that has been registered, —viz., 58. Of these, 19 were of children under one year of age, 22 were aged from 1 to 59 years, and 17 from 62 to 94 years. There has been no epidemic.

698. RATHO.—Deaths above the average. One was suicidal, and another, the result of an accident.

26. HADDINGTON.

706. DUNBAR.—There have been 27 more births in the parish this year than last, and 20 fewer deaths. The town is becoming, every year, more and more a health-resort.

711. INNERWICK.—Of the 16 deaths registered, 15 were of males, and were caused by the foundering of the s.s. 'River Garry' with all hands off Skateraw coast on the morning of the 18th November.

712. MORHAM.—Two of the births, and two of the deaths were of twins, who only survived one hour.

27. BERWICK.

735. DUNS.—The ages of six of the 12 persons who died during the quarter, ranged from 74 to 90 years.

28. PEBBLES.

762 (2). WALKERBURN.—Influenza very prevalent, but none of the cases fatal. The deaths are above the average.

766. MANOR.—Hooping Cough prevalent, but no deaths therefrom.

767. NEWLANDS.—Influenza very prevalent, but no fatal cases.

VIII. SOUTHERN DIVISION.

30. ROXBURGH.

783. BOWDEN.—The average age of the three persons whose deaths were recorded during the quarter is 80·6 years, and the average for the whole year (omitting a child of a few months), is 75·6 years.

784. CASTLETON.—Of the four deaths recorded, three are of children, all in one family, who died within a week, from Diphtheria. No other cases are reported.

787a. ECKFORD.—Measles prevalent in the east part of the parish, but no fatal cases have occurred.

797. MAKERSTOUN.—The two deaths are of twins, who only lived a few hours.

801. MOREBATTLE.—Of the two deaths recorded, one was of a person aged 86, and the other 83 years.

31. DUMFRIES.

812. ANNAN.—Diphtheria prevalent, and caused 12 deaths.

846. RUTHWELL.—Deaths above the average. Two were due to a railway accident, and three to Influenza. The average age of those who died was 75 years.

852. TYNRON.—Of the five deaths registered, one was of a person aged 82, and another of a person aged 89 years.

32. KIRKCUDBRIGHT.

871. KIRKCUDBRIGHT.—Scarlatina prevalent, but only one fatal case yet.

33. WIGTOWN.

886. INCH.—Deaths above the average. Of the 11 registered, two were caused by Diphtheria, and one by Scarlet Fever.

890. KIRKMAIDEN.—The deaths of two males and one female were caused by drowning in the wreck of the schooner 'Eliza Bell,' on 18th November, in Barncorkrie Bay.

894. OLD LUCE.—Influenza very prevalent, and caused several deaths. One death resulted from a paraffin lamp exploding; and a boy of 11 years was killed by a cart, loaded with stones, being upset on him.

895. PENINGHAME.—The death-rate is very high, owing to the prevalence of Influenza. More than half the deaths registered during the year, occurred in this quarter.

* The actual number of Districts is 1056—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 5 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.
